

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Claddagh Irish Pub to bring “Craic” of the Irish to The Market Common, Myrtle Beach.

June 26, 2006 – McCaffery Interests, Inc. of Chicago, Illinois, (www.mccafferyinterests.com) is pleased to announce they have an executed lease agreement with The Claddagh Irish Pub (www.claddaghirishpubs.com) to open a location at The Market Common, Myrtle Beach, its newest project in Myrtle Beach, SC., scheduled to open 2007. This will be The Claddagh Irish Pub’s first location in South Carolina.

The Claddagh Irish Pub Concept was founded in 2000 by two restaurateurs, one an American and the other an Irishman, with the idea of bringing the best of what an Ireland pub has to offer to the United States. That is to bring the “Craic” of the Irish to their pub concept. “Craic” (pronounced crack) means a fun, friendly and exuberant environment. The idea worked and today there are more than a dozen Claddagh Irish Pubs throughout the United States.

The Claddagh Irish Pubs are more than a bar or place to eat – they are a place where the community can gather at the end of the day and spend time with both friends and family. It is a place to unwind, to celebrate, and listen to music, to have a meal or just be in the company of others. The Claddagh Irish Pubs are a part of everyday life in each town and community they are located.

As part of The Market Common, Myrtle Beach, The Claddagh Irish Pub will be an important restaurant component of a master-planned mixed-use development that includes a complimentary mix of retail, restaurant, residential, hotel, theatres and parking – all designed to create a beautiful pedestrian-friendly lifestyle center.
